PROFILE

I am from Rockford, Illinois, about an hour north of Chicago. So why did I decide to travel 12 hours south to Stillwater, Oklahoma? In short, sports media.

I am passionate about a multitude of jobs that have to do with sports. That could be sports writing, sports broadcasting, or even becoming a sports information director. Within all these fields I have experience, whether it be broadcasting Oklahoma State Women's Basketball, writing articles on Cowboy Tennis, or working for Oklahoma State Communications, studying under future SIDs. Either career path I gravitate towards, I know I have that experience and will be successful.
